Bosch Filters

The most common cause of odors is due to infrequent usage of the dishwasher. In this case, food soil builds up on the filter and seals. Regular cleaning of the filter and door seals keep soil from building up and creating odors. Review the Use & Care guide to view detailed instructions with photos of how to clean the filter system in your dishwasher.

Don't forget:

- To clean door seals: Wipe with a clean damp cloth
- Drain hose must have a "high loop" at least 20" above the floor to the pump properly. Dirty water may cause odors. Review the installation instructions for additional details.

- Scrape off food before loading dishes
- You can check the filter by removing , use a brush to clean the filter and rinsing it off
- Clean A, B, and C then place it back into the dishwasher
- Clean along the side of the dishwasher (door and the base of the unit)
- (A) Large Object Trap: Prevents objects entering the pump system or clogging your household drain
- (B) Flat Fine Filter: Prevents food particles from entering the wash chamber and directs particles toward the mirco filter
- (C) Mirco Filter: Directs the smallest of particles to the household plumbing drain

Every Bosch dishwasher must pass 485 stringent quality checks- including running every single one with water- before leaving our factory. So you can rest assured that your dishwasher will be ready to take on whatever life throws your way.

Don't forget...the dishwasher itself does not create odors!
